Future in the present: How to open up a personal future + Polytopia

Very interesting project and group.

It's part of POLYTOPIA (like our Create FutureS it considers many possible futures...

The human species is rapidly and indisputably moving towards the technological singularity. The cadence of the flow of information and innovation in the infoverse demands a response. As hyperconnectivity increases, our minds are becoming progressively more coupled and cybernetically joined.

Polytopia offers itself to be the virgin ground upon which the newly born Cyberculture of openness and collaboration can be extended by those in pursuit of a combined interactive intelligence.

Polytopia is a mutually supportive habitat of sorts. A mind habitat for our multidimensional co-enhancing minds, for we are infonauts in search of a home.
